The website, The Province writes "Former Charlie Sheen girlfriend stars in Canadian-made TV series about porn-star rock band"

The biggest problem porn star/former Charlie Sheen "goddess" Bree Olson faces with her new porn-star-comprised rock band is "being taken seriously," she says -- which is a legitimate concern for a rock band made up of women who have sex on film for a living. The fact that they often show up drunk -- if at all -- get in fights, and vandalize things adds to the concern

This wild reality series follows Bree Olson's all-girl porn star rock band as they attempt to put their pasts behind them and make it big in the music biz.

Eps. 101-

Bree Olson assembles the band: Monica Mayhem (vocals), Layla Labelle (guitar), Tuesday Cross (bass) and Alicia Andrews (drums). At the band's first rehearsal, the girls realize they have a lot of work ahead of them. So when they get the news their first gig is in just five days they worry they won't be ready. Later Bree takes Tuesday and Alicia shopping for costumes while Monica and Layla shop for guitars. At the band's second rehearsal, Layla worries the other girls aren't willing to work as hard as she knows they must, especially Monica who she says "needs the most rehearsal". Largely without Monica, the band starts to sound better and by the time their first gig arrives the girls are cautiously optimistic. Waiting backstage, the band nearly revolt when Bree tells them they will be opening for veteran porn pop star Brittaney Starr rather than the other way around as they'd been told. An angry band takes the stage at Trainwrecks in Las Vegas and the large crowd gets their first look at Tight.
